SUICIDE OF WESTERLY WIDOWER

Brooding Over Wife's Death Angelo Palladino Shoots Himself—Bottinelli-Catto Wedding—Marriage of Bayard D. York and Miss Lucy H. Wheeler, of North Stonington, at Wheeler Summer Cottage, at Pleasant View—Quarryman Missing.

Miss Adelaide Carolina Catto, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Catto, of Westerly, and Paul Edward Bottinelli, draughtsman for the Harrison Granite company of New York city, were married in the Church of the Immaculate Conception Tuesday morning in the presence of a congregation of fully two hundred friends. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. John Dunn. The bride was given away by her father, the groom being attended by Mr. Joseph Bottinelli, his brother, and by Thomas Fontani, a cousin of the bride. The bridesmaids were Miss Adelaide Catto, a sister, and Miss Rosie Catto, a cousin of the bride. The bridesmaids wore white dotted muslin gowns trimmed with val lace and insertion, picture hats, and carried bouquets of marguerites and white sweet peas.

The bride was attired in point d'esprit over white liberty satin, trimmed with old lace and white ribbon, her veil being caught with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas. After the marriage ceremony a nuptial mass was celebrated by Father Dunn. Walter Dunn was acolyte. There followed a reception at the residence of the bride's parents in Leward avenue where an elaborate luncheon was served.

Miss Catto is a native of Westerly, is very popular and has a wide acquaintance. She received a large number of presents, including hand-painted salad dish, Mrs. Caroline Chapman; parlor suit, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Bini, J. Lamoerti and F. Rizzi.

Spoon tray, Victor Gervasi; dessert spoons, silver service and trim, and Mrs. Thomas W. Coy; cow, Thomas W. Coy; knives, forks and spoons, Charles Fontana; bankbook, $50, James Catto; uncle of bride; cream dish and ladle, Arthur Franciello; solid silver serving spoons, Mrs. Pengelly and Miss Ada Pengelly; silver olive spoon, Miss Margaret and Joseph DiStefano; berry spoons, Mr. and Mrs. Nate Fontana; silver butter knife, Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Wheeler; pair blankets, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bianchi; canned brush and comb set, Miss Susan Coy; berry dish, Miss Susan DiRocco; chocolate set, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Church; dinner set, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Croci; two pictures, Miss Mary B. Bottinelli; pair of candleabra, Mr. and Mrs. John Hughes; silver cold meat fork, Mrs. Napoleon Blanchard; soup server, Mrs. Samuel Doucy; sunset glass water set, Mrs. Hector Darrow; berry forks, Stephen Bottinelli; wine set, Antonio Favario; sofa pillow, Mrs. William Rowe; centerpiece, Mrs. Thaddeus Weems; fern dish, Misses Ada and Angelina Catto; palm, Mr. and Mrs. Schultz; glass dish, Mrs. Benjamin Tucker; fruit dish, Mrs. Henry John; picture, Mr. and Mrs. Casirico; cheese pick, Mrs. Albert Smith; sofa pillow, Mr. and Mrs. George Biako; towels, Mr. and Mrs. Rowland Dunham; table linen, Mr. and Mrs. Bernadine; berry spoons, Mr. and Mrs. Susan Potter.

Dragon centerpiece and clothspun box, Misses Ruth and Mary Potter; drawn work, Mrs. James Gourlay; brooch, Miss Grace Bryan; bed linen, Mrs. Frederick Williams; silk shawl and hemstitched lunch set, the Misses Bottinelli; drawn bureau set, Frank and Joseph Bottinelli; bedspread, Mrs. Fontana; neckerchief of coral, Miss Adelaide E. Palmer of New York; sewing machine, John Catto, father of the bride; $5 in gold, Rodolph Fontani; $5 gold piece, Louis Monti.

Mr. and Mrs. Bottinelli left on an evening express on their wedding trip. They will reside in New York.

Becoming melancholy over the death of his wife of a year, who died about three months ago, leaving an infant daughter, Angelo Palladino committed suicide by shooting Tuesday morning at 5 o'clock at the home of his parents at 75 Pleasant street. Since the death of Mrs. Palladino he has been low-spirited, brooding over his loss almost continuously.

He went to his work in the Clark Thread mill Tuesday morning and completing of pains in his head was excused from work for the day and went immediately to his home. There he again complained of pains and his younger sister went to the lower tenement to get some headache powders. When she returned her brother was lying dead on the lounge, a stream of blood flowing from his wound, and beside him was the revolver that showed the method of death.

He had fired a .38 calibre bullet through his right temple, making a clean wound through the skull and causing instant death.

Palladino was 21 years of age and had lived in Westerly for nine years. About a year ago he married Margaret Tuscano and they resided at 4 Joshua street, off Tower street, where Mrs. Palladino died. The baby survives her and is being cared for by a friend of the family. Palladino's parents, brother and sister resided in Westerly.

As Palladino was dead when Dr. Scanlon was called, Dr. J. Howard Morgan, the medical examiner, made an investigation and gave as his opinion that it was a case of suicide, due to melancholia.

The parents of the dead young man were frantic with grief, the father being so overcome that it was necessary to use force to restrain him from ending his life.

Angelo Palladino was well known in Westerly as a young man of good habits and excellent character.

Miss Lucy H. Wheeler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Wheeler, of North Stonington, and Bayard D. York of the same place were married in the Englemere cottage at Pleasant View Tuesday afternoon, it being the first wedding at the summer home of the bride's parents. The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. M. Catcart of Pawtucket, assisted by Rev. William Farrer of North Attleboro, in the presence of thirty-two relatives and friends.

Miss Alice E. Avery was maid of honor and Miss C. Louise Avery of Brooklyn and Miss Emily Greene of Westerly were bridesmaids. The best man was Allen York, a brother of the groom.

The groom is son of John L. York of North Stonington and has been studying at Phillips academy, Andover, Mass. He has been elected principal of Walla Walla academy, Washington, and Mr. and Mrs. York will leave for that place in August.

The funeral of Benjamin Potter Barber was largely attended at his home in Lewis street Tuesday afternoon. Services were conducted by Rev. John G. Dutton. Burial was in River Bend cemetery. The bearers were Albertus W. Maxson, William J. Nichols, Simon P. Nichols, Horace E. Miner, Eugene B. Pendleton and Ernest Coon.

Local Laconics.
The freshmen class of the Westerly High school met at the Wequetequois casino Tuesday.

Additional electric lights with ornamental poles and brackets are being placed in Wilcox park.

Mrs. John G. Dutton was called to Fall River Tuesday to attend the death of her sister, Miss Mary Kippax.

George R. Miller, for thirty-six years tender at the Natick crossing, ended his service with the railroad company Tuesday.

Some time after midnight Monday thieves entered the residence of John Frazier in Canal street and took about $20 in cash.

A quarryman named Puzell, employed by the Smith Granite company, acted strangely while at work Monday, caused by becoming overheated. It was reported Tuesday afternoon that he had disappeared.

Col. William C. Gorgas is receiving public honor for his admirable work in Panama. The University of Pennsylvania has given him the degree of D. D., and he has been made president of the American Medical association, now in session at Atlantic City and attended by thousands of physicians.

The Difference.
The Bridgeport, an excellent journal, thinks the suggestion of treating corporations differently from firms and individuals is inequitable and it states a case as follows:

Two concerns, involving the same amount of capital, engaged in the same business and employing the same number of people, may be located together. One may be an individual concern, owned by one man, or a partnership concern, with two or more partners; the other may be a corporation doing business under the corporate laws of the state in which it is located.

We beg to invite further attention to this very interesting distinction. Just notice this: If the firm fails every partner is liable for all the debts it may owe; the indiscretions or dishonesty or the simple foolishness of one partner may absolutely ruin all of them. If any one of the partners dies,
